2025 Course Offerings

ICW Australia Courses

ICW Australia offers a range of courses on Collaborative Working as a business discipline and the international principles and standards on Collaborative Business Relationship Management.

ICW Australia is the premier training organisation in Australia for the delivery of effective and practical training in the application of Collaborative Working. Collaborative Working refers to business relationships formed by committed organisations to maximise joint performance to achieve mutual objectives and create additional value.

Our courses align with the International Standard ISO 44001 Collaborative business relationship management systems – Requirements and framework, which provides detail on how Collaborative Working can be put in place, measured, assessed and assured. ISO 44001 outlines the tools and concepts used to build a collaborative framework.

Our course offerings include:

- Introduction to Collaborative Working and ISO 44001
- Collaborative Business Relationships: Risk Management and Benefits Realisation
- Collaborative Culture and Managing Behaviours
- Collaborative Agreements and Commercial Management
- Implementing a Business Relationship Management System
- ISO 44001 Certification Preparation
- ISO 44001 Collaborative Leaders
